Important Notes:

New Asian American Studies Department Teaching Assistants are required to enroll in Chicana and Chicano Studies (CHICANO) 495: Learner-Centered Teaching in Chicana/Chicano Studies (4 units, S/U grading), a seminar course designed to explore diverse classroom strategies and pedagogical techniques, which will be offered during the Spring 2017 quarter. Details regarding CHICANO 495 may be found in the Schedule of Classes: <https://sa.ucla.edu/ro/public/soc/>. Returning Asian American Studies Department Teaching Assistants who underwent previous training are not required to take CHICANO 495, but are welcome to take the course.

All those selected for Asian American Studies Department Teaching Assistantships are strongly recommended to attend the Annual Campuswide Teaching Assistant Conference, to be held on Monday, September 25, 2017. Registration information will be made available in August. More information about the Conference may be found at the following site: <http://www.oid.ucla.edu/content/ta-conference>.

Teaching Assistants matched with the Writing II designated courses (AAS 10W and AAS 30W) are required to take English Composition (ENGCOMP) 495E: Teaching Preparation Seminar: Writing in the Disciplines (2 units, S/U grading), a writing pedagogy instruction course, in either the quarter prior to the first term of teaching (highly recommended) or concurrently with their teaching assistantship quarter with 10W and/or 30W. In a subsequent quarter, TAs teaching 10W and/or 30W are also required to take the mentoring course, ENGCOMP 495F: Supervised Teaching of Writing in the Disciplines (2 units, S/U grading). For more information, please contact the UCLA Writing Programs office: <http://wp.ucla.edu/wp/about/contact/>.
