

UCLA Graduate Peer Mentorship for Extramural Fellowships

The Graduate Peer Mentorship (GPM) for Extramural Fellowships is a resource for graduate students to develop and enhance their fluency and familiarity with extramural graduate fellowships and their value. With the guidance of GPMs along with expertise from UCLA's Graduate Division, Graduate Writing Center, and Scholarship Resource Center, students have the opportunity to strengthen their applications and sharpen their grantsmanship. While serving as a valuable resource to the campus community, GPMs also benefit by developing their mentoring and communication skills.

Duties

- Provide one-on-one-counseling for prospective and active applicants
